

THE JACKAL CHANGES THE DRESS

There was one jackal. One day, as he was wandering he found a sheep's fur

The jackal became very happy. He danced in happiness

Now, I need not have to work hard to kill the sheep

He wore that fur of sheep....

....and saw his reflection in the lake

Wow! I look like a sheep

The jackal saw at a distance, one cowherd boy dozing.
In front of him, were all his sheep happily grazing

The jackal silently took steps and mingled with the sheep. Lowering his neck he pretended to graze

In the evening, the cowherd boy returned home along with the sheep

He locked them in the shed. He counted all the sheeps

Why there is one sheep extra? I cannot understand?

When it will be night and when will the cowherd boy sleep so that I could eat one sheep and go to sleep with the sheep

It was very cold that night. The cowherd collected the wood and set a bonfire and began to warm himself

At that time, three soldiers came there

Hey! Cowherd boy! Today we have not eaten anything, so quietly give us one sheep

If I do not give them the sheep, they will beat me up and not only one but many sheeps would be taken away

The cowherd opened the door of the shed and said....

O master, take them. You yourself select and take them

The soldiers entered the shed and looked everywhere. They selected a healthy sheep. One soldier lifted up that sheep

That time, the jackal in the guise of sheep became angry. He dashed against the soldier and the soldier fell down

At that time, the soldier angrily cut off the head and took the body and they all walked away

This is a big fat sheep, we shall have enough

Early in the morning, the cowherd boy saw that, there was a jackal's head in the shed

The cowherd boy counted the sheep twice. Not even one sheep was less

MORAL :

Cheaters cannot escape