

Don't Judge

Avnish prabhu is a devotee since 6 months and he is advancing in his spritual progress quite rapidly. He was late from his office to attend the counsellee meeting and he just reached at the time of honouring prasad which he liked the most and today was he favaourite paneer masala which he eats like anything.

Avnish Prabhu was very fond of eating prasad and he took a plate full of paneer and asked one of his senior devotee to sit together....

Prabhu,
lets honour prasad
together...

well I have already eaten the
prasad but I will accompany you...

So
prabhu Sandeep
have you started
reading the Bhagvatam.

Krsna how much paneer
he is going
to eat?

Just see
how much paneer he is eating....

This is sense gratification a devotee should only eat what is required...

Ok prabhu I have some seva to
do with your permission I will take your leave

I better tell
him. what is right?

Hari bol
Prabhu can you
wait for a moment...

A photograph of two men in a room. The man on the left is wearing a light blue button-down shirt and has a yellow tilak on his forehead. He is looking towards the man on the right with a slight smile. The man on the right is wearing a white button-down shirt, a gold watch, and a gold chain. He is pointing his right index finger to his own cheek. A speech bubble is positioned above the man on the right, containing text. The background shows a room with a window, a white plastic chair, and a shelf with a white cloth.

Don't feel bad but I want
to tell you
something which is
not proper from
the point of our Vaishnava
culture...

Every time
I observe that you eat so much
of paneer as if you are eating
paneer for the first time

Please
forgive me but
our movement is
preaching movement
and not eating
movement

A photograph of two men in an indoor setting. The man on the left, wearing a light purple long-sleeved shirt and dark trousers, is gesturing with his right hand towards the man on the right. The man on the right, wearing a white short-sleeved shirt, light-colored trousers, and glasses, is carrying a green shoulder bag and appears to be walking away. The room has a tiled floor with a geometric pattern, a window with dark curtains, and a ceiling fan. A speech bubble is overlaid on the image, containing the text "Prabhu please wait for moment...".

Prabhu please wait for
moment...

A man with dark hair and a tilak on his forehead is wearing a light purple button-down shirt. He has his hands placed on his chest. A speech bubble is positioned to his right, containing text. The background shows an indoor setting with a window on the left and a red chair in the distance.

Before coming to the devotion I was a meat eater so much so that I even used to eat beef, so even still sometime that
conditioning
haunts me.

Therefore some times I try to sublimate those
desire by eating
lot of paneer

Krsna Krsna!!!...
My dear prabhu
without knowing
the real reason I
have offended
you, please
forgive me

After clearing all the doubts they hugged each other...

We should never judge a devotee just by seeing the external. As due to our conditioned nature we are bound to see fault in others and criticize, thus ruining our own spiritual life.

By seeing & discussing the fault of others , slowly slowly that faults creep in our consciousness also, so we should ignore other people faults and just see good in others , Lord Chaitanya Mahaprabhu has said if you chant the holy name and don't criticize devotees I will take you back to Godhead.